General Noble has finally finished his work as regards Jefferson City office holders that are connected with his department. The last democrat employed in the federal building there was bounced this week.

The exercise of the right of suffrage evidently don't command a very high estimate in some parts of Michigan. A man sold his vote in one of the peninsular counties a short time since for two bushels of buckwheat.

The democratic victory at the local election in Hannibal this week was on the same plane as that of the April walk-over in Sedalia. The republicans succeeded in electing one councilman and nothing more. The good work is going gloriously forward.

The first woman in the history of the United States to occupy the position of deputy marshal is Miss Olive Buchanan, of St. Louis, who has just been appointed. Thus does Missouri through her representative city, assume her place in the march of progress.

Jealousy seems to prevail to some extent over in Kansas. The Topeka Journal says: An overall factory at Atchison blows its steam whistle a great many times a day as a signal for oiling the forty sewing machines. The Atchison people put up with it because they think it means business.

It was not necessary to think of having to call out the military on May 1st to suppress any possible riot in connection with the Labor Day demonstrations in this country. All over Europe where the day was celebrated, troops had to be on hand for the public safety. Great, verily, is a country where the government is of the people, by the people and for the people.

A number of swindles have been perpetrated on the Farmers Mutual Benefit association and the Farmers Alliance in Illinois. Rogues, representing themselves as authorized to deal with the organizations, have sold by sample, barrels of sugar at very low prices. When the goods are delivered it is found that there is sugar to the depth of about six inches in the packages and the balance is filled up with a good quality of sand.

A New York clergyman recently said in an interview, that he would have no objection to Sunday papers if it were not that the publishers made the issues of the Sabbath even more interesting than those of the week days. Can it be that there is a little selfishness connected with his expressed opinion? It may be that the newspapers in the excellence of reading matter, they afford the public, are forcing the ministers to more laborious work in the necessary effort to entertain their congregations.

Under some circumstances it must be a severe trial to have to sit as presiding officer in legislative bodies. The office of vice president of the United States has been considered and remarked on as a sinecure. The duties have not, it is thought much work connected with them but the duty in the chair must be on hand, and it cannot be denied but there are times when the inflictions of long speeches are wearing. Vice President Morton had to leave Washington some weeks ago on account of failing health and just now he has had to call a pro tempore president Ingalls to assist him again. Whether Senator Blair's speech of last week caused this indisposition or not is a question.

Never in Sedalia's history has it been the objective point of so many people interested in towns with a bright future, as now, not a day passes but there are men arriving here, who have heard of the prospects in store for the city, and who have come with a view to assisting in the progress being made, and to share in whatever of success may be achieved. There is a foundation, safe and sure in the start forward that has been made, and careful business men from various parts of the country are realizing it. The gentlemen who came in from Topeka yesterday, with merely the idea of curiosity, were surprised with the affording here seen. They said that they were aware that Sedalia was one of the best inland cities in the west, but they were not prepared to give credit for half what was possessed. Such are the opinions expressed by all the strangers who come and view the facilities here offered, and Judge Metesker's prophecy of 50,000 population within two years will be found not over sanguine.

Epoch.

The transition from long, lingering and painful sickness to robust health marks an epoch in the life of the individual. Such a remarkable event is treasured in the memory and the agency whereby the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. Hence it is that so much is heard in praise of Electric Bitters. So many feel they owe their restoration to health to the use of the Great Alternative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of Kidney, Liver or Stomach, of long or short standing you will surely find relief by use of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50c and $1 per bottle at Merz & Hale's Drug Store.

Had no idea of it.

The following amusing incident is told by a newspaper correspondent: They was an eastern man with us in the stage as we were making a route in Kansas, and at noon, as we stopped at a new town for dinner, he said to the landlord of the board shanty tavern:

"This seems to be a brisk sort of a town."

"Yes. She's gaining right along."

"Is there a bank here?"

"Regular bank?"

"Yes."

"Regular bank, with president, cashier and so on where they receive deposits, give drafts on Chicago, and so forth?"

"Yes."

"No, there isn't any such bank here now."

"Then there was one?"

"Yes, but it closed up. The president and cashier are here, though."

"Then, perhaps, I could have a little talk with them before dinner?"

"Hardly. They are lying under ground out here in my back lot."

"What! Dead?"

"As door nats."

"Sickness or accident?"

"Well, sort of betwixt. The bank tried to fail and pay 50 cents on the $1, and the boys turned out and hung 'em to that telegraph pole there, and divided the cash, so that we got $1.10 apiece on our deposits. If you want to start a bank, however, I'll—"

"Oh! no! no! no! I had no idea of it. I'm going on to Emporia to go into business."

Two Distinct Lines to Chicago.

Are given the traveler from Southern Missouri, by the Burlington Route. One to Hannibal, over the M., K. & T. R. R., whence the Burlington's solid vestibule train, the "El," takes up the through sleeper and speeds it to its destination. The other route is made over the H. and St. J. R. R. from Kansas City, from which point this famous train, the "El," starts. This is the Kansas City-Chicago flyer, a solid vestibuled train of sleepers and free chair cars, leaving Kansas City late in the afternoon, it lands the passenger in Chicago in time for business the next morning, having arrived before breakfast.

The Burlington route (K. C. St. J. & C. B. R. R.) from Kansas City, gives through service to Minneapolis and St. Paul, leaving Kansas City in the forenoon, the through Buffet sleeper via Council Bluffs, arrives in the "twin cities" in time for breakfast the next morning. This line runs two magnificent trains through to Council Bluffs and Omaha daily, one leaving Kansas City a little before noon and one in the evening, arriving respectively in the evening and morning. Both of these trains have the palace sleeping and free chair cars which have made the Burlington passenger service a model of comfort and magnificence.

Mr. Cleveland Physically.

Washington Letter to Philadelphia Bulletin.

I had a ten-minute view of ex-President Cleveland as he sat in the stuffy chamber of the supreme court of the United States. An insurance case was before the high tribunal, and a narrow-chested attorney was giving his views to the justices in their black robes. Mr. Cleveland seemed to evince a keen interest in the dry proceedings, sitting with his brief in one hand and his right arm resting upon the back of an adjoining chair. He was dressed in a suit of severe black, his linen was spotless and his face was cleanly shaven. Looking at him one could not but mark that Editor Dana's stories of his inordinate accumulation of adipose tissue are sheer malicious fabrications. In fact, it appears to be the unanimous opinion, that the ex-President has lost fat since his departure from the White House which is probably due to his active practice on his "mountain climber." While Mr. Cleveland sat within the bar of Court he was on public exhibition.

The Great Spring Medicine.

It will be gratifying to all who realize the vital necessity of purifying the blood, to know that Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup can be relied upon as a blood medicine. Mr. B. C. Robinson, of Marshall, Mich., says:

GENTLEMEN:—I have suffered intensely from biliousness and rheumatism for over three years, and had tried so many remedies that I had lost all faith. Hearing of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup I bought a bottle and found it helped me. I have now used four bottles, and it has restored my liver and kidneys to healthy action, and done more to purify my blood than anything I have ever taken. I am pleased to recommend it as a wonderful blood medicine.

Very truly yours,

B. C. ROBINSON, Marshall, Mich.

Subjects Interesting.

New York Star.

—"George Gould before his marriage had little taste for anything outside of Wall street and the society of a few friends. Since then, and probably owing to the influence of his wife, he has begun to develop a taste for handsome books, fine pictures and expensive bric-a-brac. His collections in this regard are very poor, and will not bear comparison with those of other society leaders of New York. His brother promises to be different, and already shows a strong penchant for the luxuries which George is just beginning to appreciate."

—"Robert Hoe, Jr., who is now the head of the greatest printing press manufactory the world has ever known, is a great deal of a dilettante in regard to books, paintings, etchings, engravings and the like. He patronizes the same places as does Vanderbilt, but unlike the latter, can be found in those curious stores uptown whose sole stock in trade consists of valuable engravings and works of art of that class. His collections in these fields are said to be worth over half a million of dollars. He is the undoubted successor of the late S. L. M. Barlow."

—"The English cheese," said J. E. Drake of Albany, yesterday, at the Victoria Hotel, "is almost extinct. It has been driven out of business on the one side by the fine cheeses of France, Italy and Spain and on the other it is unable to compete with the New York and other State factories in this country. To-day we are making Siltion, Cheddar, Gloucester and Cheshire so well that they cannot be distinguished in England from the originals, and are not only used there, but even sent back here to be purchased by rabid Anglo-maniacs."

—"A book-friend friend, who baunts the stores and art sales, gave me some interesting facts in relation to the fads of rich men. He said: "George Vanderbilt, probably the least talked about of any one of that family, is undoubtedly one of the best specimens of that great railroad circle. He is tall, spare, but sinewy, well proportioned, and is the picture of health and strength. He spends a fine deal of his leisure time among the fine book stores of the city, where his purchases must roll up far into the thousands every year. It is no uncommon thing for him to pay $3,000 or $4,000 for a dozen rare books, and as many thousands for their binding."

—"It will surprise many readers to know that Castle Garden is nothing less than a fortress extended and built over and that in the early part of the century it was considered a stronger building than Castle William, which fronts it across the way on Governor's island. Young West Pointers and other juvenile military experts of that period were fond of arguing the superiority of each over the other, and any number of plans have been made, some of which are on file in the war department, contemplating an attack on Castle Garden batteries and a mixed expedition from the mainland."

A Michigan Central Railroad Employee Wins His Case After Seven Years Contest.

While employed as agent of the Michigan Central Railroad Company, at Augusta, Mich., my kidneys became diseased, and from an impoverished and impure state of the blood, my general health was entirely undermined. I consulted the leading physicians of this city and Ann Arbor, and all pronounced my case Bright's disease. In October last, I began taking Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup, and am to-day a well man. It affords me pleasure to render suffering humanity any good that I can, and I wish to say that I think it the greatest blood, kidney and liver medicine in the world.

—"Last week there was a great exchange of courtesies in St. Louis between Ernst Possart, the distinguished German actor and Wilson Barrett, the famous English actor. These artists were playing at neighboring theatres. Special matinees were arranged so that they might witness each other's performances. Possart was especially delighted with Barrett's Hamlet. He sent him a fine lot of flowers, a handsome photograph of himself, and a letter in which he declared that his English brother in art had given him a fresh revelation of the divinity of Shakespeare."
